

Complex PCI: a Syntax II case

Multivessel disease but single vessel intervention

Prof. Pawel Buszman, MD, PhD

Medical University of Silesia

American Heart of Poland

Disclosure

Co-Founder and CEO, American Heart of Poland, SA

Take home message

1. Complex imaging and intracoronary flow assessment are important tools for proper selection of revascularization strategy and technique.
2. It must be cleared whether FFR (iFFR) or IVUS is a better method to indicate the need for stenting of unstable plaque: further investigations are indispensable
3. The role of iFFR before by-pass surgery for borderline lesion in MVD need to be explored.

